

*Pat Summitt*TM
LEADERSHIP GROUP

THE POWER OF TEAM

Workbook

Leader Version

Use this workbook to jot down your answers to the personal reflection questions and exercises in this program.

INTRODUCTION

The Power of Team

PERSONAL REFLECTIONS

Take a minute to sit down and assess the starting point, where you are as a team and as a leader.

1. Who are the key players on your organizational team?

2. On a scale of 1-10, how well do you think they currently pull together as a team?

3. What are some of the team's areas of strength?

What are areas of team weakness?

4. Of the LCR principles (Loyalty, Communication, Responsibility), which do you think your team is the strongest in?

5. Who is the person on your team who seems the most natural in their role? (List up to three.)

The Power of Team

Anyone needing more development? (List up to three.)

6. How well do you know your team outside of work – birthdays, hobbies, sports teams, etc.?

EXERCISES

1. What are your three biggest obstacles or questions around the concept of “team”?

Challenge 1 _____

Challenge 2 _____

Challenge 3 _____

2. How would you like to grow more as the leader of the team? Take five minutes and jot your thoughts below.

The Big Chair

LESSON 1

The Big Chair

PERSONAL REFLECTIONS

1. What do you currently have responsibility for?
2. In your opinion, what is the hardest part of your current responsibilities?

Why?

3. How do you instill responsibility in your team currently?

The Big Chair

4. On your team, how have you clearly defined who is responsible for what?

Are there any areas that are “shared” responsibilities or potentially gray areas?

EXERCISE

Think about your current team and the levels of responsibility each team member has. How might you actively cultivate different, increasing “levels” of responsibility?

List below.

LESSON 2

Responsibility and Ownership

PERSONAL REFLECTIONS

1. What are some of the common breakdowns in responsibility that you see in your area?
2. What do you wish your team would take more ownership of?
3. Are there any areas in your daily workflow without an owner?
List them here.

EXERCISES

1. Of the reflections listed above, pick two areas you can work on this week to help team members assume more ownership.

Problem:

Breakdown in responsibility:

Action steps to cultivate accountability and ownership:

Problem:

Breakdown in responsibility:

Action steps to cultivate accountability and ownership:

2. What are two areas you can take more accountability and ownership of in your own key results area?

LESSON 3

Learning to Macromanage

PERSONAL REFLECTIONS

1. On a scale of 1 to 10, how much do you micromanage, versus macromanage?

2. What particular areas might you be exerting too much control?

Why? What is the fear?

Learning to Macromanage

3. Is there anyone on my team who could be entrusted with more responsibility?

4. Are there any areas that might need more leadership oversight?

LESSON 4

Personal Brand: What's Yours?

PERSONAL REFLECTIONS

1. What do you think your personal brand is currently?
2. What would you like your personal brand to be?
3. Who has a personal brand you admire? Why?

Personal Brand: What's Yours?

4. Who around you has a negative personal brand?

What are some of the characteristics?

5. In your opinion, what is the hardest part about developing a personal brand?

EXERCISES

1. What three words do you want others to think of you when they hear your name? List them below.

Personal Brand: What's Yours?

2. Create your own personal brand statement.

(Sample: fill in the blank)

"I am a _____ who does _____ and is known for _____, _____, and _____."

3. What non-technical attributes go along with your personal brand statement? (ex. dress, presence, key relationships, work ethic, etc.)

List below:

4. Where do you need to close the gap in some of these areas?

Personal Brand: What's Yours?

5. Audit your personal brand online / outside of work. How do you represent yourself on your social media profiles?

What may need to change?

What may need to be added?

6. What are the next action steps you can take to start enhancing your personal brand this month?

LESSON 5

Communicate to Win

PERSONAL REFLECTIONS

1. What is the hardest part of communicating with your team currently?
2. Do you currently tend to err on the side of overcommunicating or undercommunicating? Why?
3. Think back on an example of when overcommunicating might have saved the team confusion.
4. How much context do you provide your team in your current communication? Is it easy or hard to do this?

EXERCISES

1. In reflecting on the phrase, "to be unclear is to be unkind," can you think of a time when this may have been true in your own career? List below.
2. How can you better set your team up to win? List two practical things you can do this week.

LESSON 6

Fairways and Forest Fires

PERSONAL REFLECTIONS

1. Pat identified three situations – off-court, during practice, during a game – that were a regular part of her weekly routine as a head coach. What three predictable situations do you find yourself in most often in your own role?

2. Of the four vocal quadrants listed below, which do you fit into most naturally?
 - Loud and slow – authority
 - Loud and fast – enthusiasm
 - Low and slow – sincerity and empathy
 - Soft and fast -- anticipation

3. Which is the least natural to you?

4. How can you work on incorporating at least two of the lesser-used quadrants into your daily routine?

*Fairways and Forest FiresEXERCISE

1. Of the three key components mentioned in the lesson, which is your greatest strength?
 - Tone
 - Situation
 - Nonverbals

2. Which two would you consider yourself weaker in?

What are three ways you can get better on each?

Take it to the next level: Ask a colleague you trust for their opinion on the question above.

Continue to reflect.

LESSON 7

Different Strokes, Different Folks

PERSONAL REFLECTIONS

1. Do you have more introverts or extroverts on your team?
2. What percentage do you think you have of thinkers vs. feelers?
3. Which is your natural personality type?

Extrovert vs. Introvert | Thinker vs. Feeler

4. What specific ways do you prefer to be communicated with?

*Different Strokes, Different FolksEXERCISE

1. Name three ways you can communicate with the following:

Introvert-thinker:

Extrovert-thinker:

Introvert-feeler:

Extrovert-feeler:

2. What personality tests have you used in the past (if any)?

Pick two new tests to research for potential use with your team.

3. When communicating with your team directly, what percentage would you estimate is criticism vs. praise?

Take it to the next level: Do an audit of criticism vs. praise for two weeks.

If praise is below 30%, how could you work to improve the percentage?

LESSON 8

Listening to Lead

PERSONAL REFLECTIONS

1. How much do you currently practice listening as a leader? (Be honest!)
2. What percentage would you say is actively communicating vs. actively listening?
3. Think about someone you know who was one of the worst listeners you've encountered. What traits did they have that made them this way?
4. Think about two individuals you know who are great listeners. What specific traits do each have?

*Listening to Lead*EXERCISES

1. Give yourself a grade for listening on a scale of 1-10

2. Now, how good are you at active listening?

3. What are three things you can do to improve?

Take it to the next level: Ask two friends or colleagues you trust for their honest opinion. Ask them to score you and compare notes.

LESSON 9

You Have to Demonstrate Loyalty to Receive It

PERSONAL REFLECTIONS

1. How has employee loyalty at your company changed in the last 5-10 years?

2. What is the current tenure of the average employee on your team?

Is it below or above the four-year average?

3. What is your own current job tenure, on average?

4. What do you think are some obstacles to loyalty in your industry?

LESSON 10

How to Be Loyal to Your Team

PERSONAL REFLECTIONS

1. If you were one of your own team members, how much loyalty would you feel like the company has to you on a scale of 1-10?
2. How do you currently champion team member growth?
3. What percentage of promotions in the last 12 months have been internal vs. external in your department?

EXERCISES

1. Which of the below do you currently do to recognize current employees (check all that apply):
 - ☐ Verbal praise and appreciation
 - ☐ Public recognition
 - ☐ Written recognition
 - ☐ Employee awards
 - ☐ Reward programs or incentive trips
 - ☐ Peer-to-peer recognition
 - ☐ Birthdays
 - ☐ Anniversaries
 - ☐ Monthly lunches/happy hours
 - ☐ Other: _____
 - ☐ Other: _____

How to Be Loyal to Your Team

2. What new methods of recognition might you implement to build on the current list?
3. What benefits do you currently offer employees? (Check all that apply.)
- ☐ Healthy pay increases
 - ☐ Bonuses
 - ☐ Paid vacation time
 - ☐ Unlimited time off
 - ☐ Paid sick time
 - ☐ Unlimited sick time
 - ☐ Health Insurance
 - ☐ Dental
 - ☐ Vision
 - ☐ Short-term disability
 - ☐ Long-term disability
 - ☐ Supplemental policies such as accident, cancer, hospital, or long-term care
 - ☐ Life insurance
 - ☐ Mental health assistance
 - ☐ Retirement or pension plan
 - ☐ Company match
 - ☐ Free stock options
 - ☐ Profit-sharing

How to Be Loyal to Your Team

Other benefits:

- ☐ Remote/hybrid options
- ☐ Flexible hours/4-day workweek
- ☐ Adoption assistance (or paid adoption leave)
- ☐ Pet insurance
- ☐ HSA/FSA
- ☐ Credit Union Services (credit card, debit card, preferred savings accounts)
- ☐ Paid maternity leave
- ☐ Paid paternity leave
- ☐ Continuing education assistance
- ☐ Employee child scholarship fund
- ☐ Gym membership/on-site gym facilities
- ☐ Remote work assistance (home office stipend, internet assistance)
- ☐ Financial wellness or financial planning
- ☐ Childcare assistance
- ☐ Employee discounts
- ☐ Free events tickets (sporting events, theater, etc.)
- ☐ Company-sponsored retreats
- ☐ Company-sponsored offsite/happy hour events
- ☐ Free onsite snacks/drinks
- ☐ Onsite food options
- ☐ Team-bonding activities
- ☐ Product benefit or discount on employee product
- ☐ Other: _____
- ☐ Other: _____

4. How might the company consider adding to its current benefits package?

LESSON 11

How to Be a Leader No One Will Want to Leave

PERSONAL REFLECTIONS

1. Think back on your own career. Of the five areas of trust mentioned in this lesson, which two do you appreciate the most? Why?
2. Which one has been the hardest to come by at previous or current employers?
3. Why do you think this is?
4. Which do you struggle with most?

EXERCISES

1. On a scale of 1-10, rate yourself and/or your department in the five core areas of trust. Be honest.

Trust is automatically assumed: _____

Team members are defended: _____

Team members are allowed to do their jobs: _____

Team members are allowed to give feedback: _____

Good stewards are rewarded: _____

2. Are there any of the five areas you can improve on?

3. What are two practical things you can do this month to improve in one of the areas?